

Family Data: Indicator C4 Highlights Results and State Approaches, FFY 2011

As part of their Part C annual performance report, states are required to report the percent of families participating in Part C who report that early intervention services have helped the family help their children develop and learn, effectively communicate their children's needs, and know their rights. For FFY 2011, all states used surveys to gather data for reporting on this indicator.

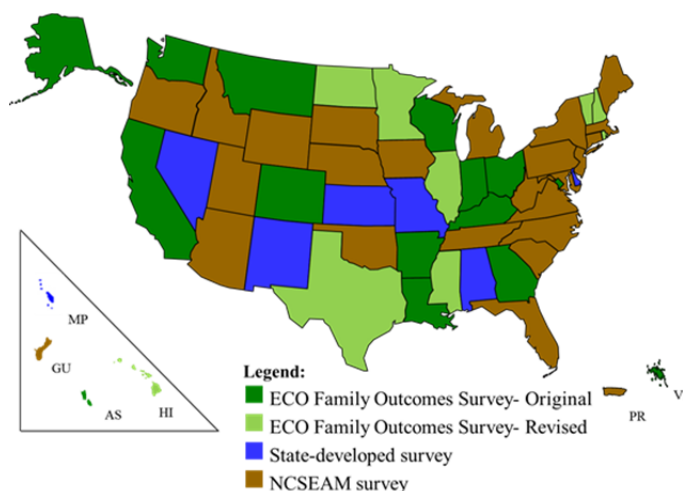

Average Performance Reported by States

Percentage of families reporting that early intervention services have helped the family:

- A. Help their children develop and learn: 87%
- B. Effectively communicate their children's needs: 88%
- C. Know their rights: 91%

Survey Approaches to Measuring the Helpfulness of Early Intervention

Family Surveys Used

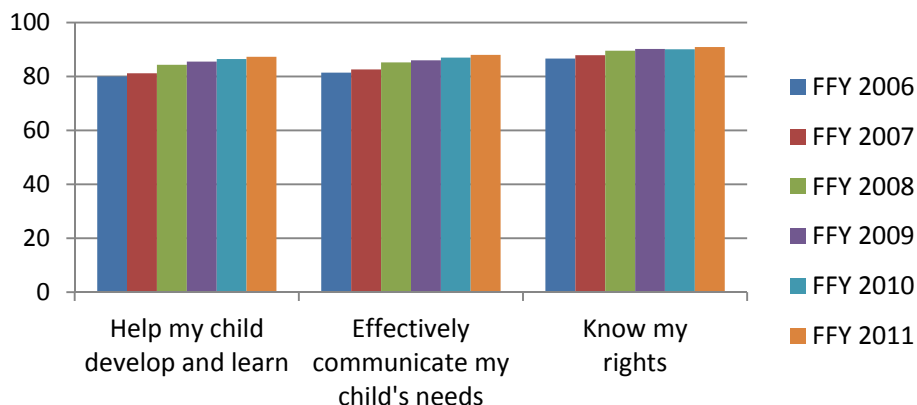

Response Rates by Survey Distribution and Return Methods*

	Response rate	States (n)
In-person Distribution	49.6%	17
With in-person return	63.7%	5
With multiple return methods	49.5%	5
With mail return	35.7%	6
Multiple Distribution	41.5%	9
With mail return	47.2%	2
With multiple return methods	39.9%	7
Mailed Distribution	27.0%	23
With mail return	24.4%	15
With multiple return methods	31.8%	8

* Forty-nine states reported response rates. Of those, not all states reported both distribution and return methods used for survey administration

 "Multiple methods" includes mail, in-person, online, telephone, etc.

Trends over time: Early Intervention has helped me...

Coming Soon:
Check the ECO website for details on a national webinar highlighting additional family data analyses.
Coming in fall 2013

